October 1, 2014

Rachel Glasgow, Regulatory Analyst, appeared before the Board to discuss the drafted rule proposal concerning the new law regarding licensure for certain military spouses.

Mrs. Glasgow stated the new law will allow a nonresident military spouse the ability to engage in the business of electrical contracting as long as the spouse holds a license in another state; was engaged in the active practice for at least two of the five years; and has not committed any act that would cause revocation of a license to practice in this State.

Mrs. Glasgow also stated that the Board can determine, on a case by case basis, whether or not the applicant's experience is equivalent pursuant to the Statutes.

The Board requested that the drafted rule proposal include language which would require the applicant to attend the Nine Hours of Code Changes and the one hour of Laws, Rules and Regulations given by a Board approved Continuing Education instructor. This requirement would be in lieu of taking the jurisprudence examination.

Mrs. Glas stated that the law provides for the fee schedule to be modified so that a temporary license can be issued.

Mrs. Glasgow also stated that she will add the above to the drafted language and will present the proposal to the Board at its meeting in November.

The Electrical Contractors Sunset proposal was published in the New Jersey Register on September 15, 2014. The comment period will expire on November 14, 2014.
